Dear parishioners,

In thinking about the word coheirs, which comes up so often at Mass, and which so many people find confusing, I was happy to find an article by Father Michael Grosch in St. Louis, which focuses on this important word. However, let us first look at today’s second reading, which also uses this term:

Brothers and sisters:
You have heard of the stewardship of God’s grace that was given to me for your benefit, namely, that the mystery was made known to me by revelation.
It was not made known to people in other generations
as it has now been revealed to his holy apostles and prophets by the Spirit:
that the Gentiles are coheirs, members of the same body, and copartners in the promise in Christ Jesus through the gospel. (Ephesians 3:2-3A, 5-6)

And here is the reflection by Father Grosch at https://aedificatiodei.wordpress.com/

“We pray in Eucharistic Prayer II that we ‘may merit to be coheirs to eternal life.’ There are two interesting parts worth mentioning here: merit and being coheirs. The idea of merit in our Catholic faith is something very misunderstood, and as a result, steered away from. Among human beings, it means a general reward or payback owed for the action of an individual. But that doesn’t make sense with God. Merit for us comes from the fact that God has freely chosen to associate himself with us.

“Anything that we might ‘earn’ or ‘deserve’ by our works of charity for others is first and foremost due to God’s grace. Even when we do something good for others, we believe that it is God’s grace which inspired us to do so in the first place! So the reward we’re given isn’t only because of our generosity to others, but also because of God’s generosity to us!

“As for being coheirs, this is a birthright that is given to us at baptism. It’s amazing to think that at our baptism, God radically changed the universe to give us a new identity as his sons and daughters. Romans 8:16-17 tells us as much: ‘The Spirit itself bears witness with our spirit that we are children of God, and if children, then heirs, heirs of God and joint heirs with Christ if only we suffer with him so that we may also be glorified with him.’

“Actually, a royal heir like my friend is a good analogy for this. If you think about it, a prince or princess as an heir to the kingdom, doesn’t deserve to be king or queen any more than the gas station worker down the street – but they are given that honor by their birth. Imagine how much more extreme that would seem if the heir was adopted! In that case, it’s not even by birth, but by the incredible generosity of the king or queen.

“Well, I’ve got news for you: we are those adopted princes and princesses of the Kingdom of God! And it’s not by anything we’ve done to earn that position, but because of waters of baptism, and the incredible generosity of the grace of God. We’re given the same blessing as Christ, God’s only begotten Son: to be risen from the dead and raised to glory.”

So, if you’ve wondered about this ‘new’ translation, I hope Father Grosch and his insights prove helpful!

Father Brown
Are you or someone you love dealing with separation or divorce? The Archdiocese strives to make known Christ’s healing love, so that all who suffer from separation and divorce might experience new life, reconciliation and restoration, meet people in a similar position and find help to rebuild their own lives. We also recognize that separated and divorced people are not mere recipients of the Church’s compassion; they are ministers of that compassion. Through their vulnerability, suffering, courage, faithfulness, and patient endurance they bear witness to Christ and his redeeming grace in the world.
