Dear friends in Christ,

Today’s Bible readings speak much about people being called by God, and about how unworthy they feel.

First Isaiah the prophet, who cries out:

“Woe is me, I am doomed! For I am a man of unclean lips, living among a people of unclean lips; yet my eyes have seen the King, the LORD of hosts!” (Isaiah 6)

Then Saint Paul, telling of how Jesus summoned him:

“After that he (the Risen Lord) appeared to James, then to all the apostles. Last of all, as to one born abnormally, he appeared to me. For I am the least of the apostles, not fit to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God.” (1 Corinthians 15)

And finally Peter, the first pope:

They came and filled both boats so that the boats were in danger of sinking. When Simon Peter saw this, he fell at the knees of Jesus and said, “Depart from me, Lord, for I am a sinful man.” For astonishment at the catch of fish they had made seized him and all those with him, and likewise James and John, the sons of Zebedee, who were partners of Simon. Jesus said to Simon, “Do not be afraid; from now on you will be catching men.” When they brought their boats to the shore, they left everything and followed him. (Luke 5)

Today’s Scripture passages remind me of my own journey of faith when I left home at age 18 and flew to Iowa to begin studies at Central College in Pella. The good Catholic people of that small town impressed me by their obvious sense of reverence and joy, but I felt hesitant about being “good enough” to join the Catholic Church. Thanks be to God, the secretary I worked for (Glady Strout from New Jersey, a great Italian Catholic who would become my godmother) and the parish priest, Father Ed Susik, helped me on the way.

Immediately after getting baptized and confirmed and receiving Holy Communion during the Easter Vigil Mass at St. Mary’s Church in Pella in 1978, I thought I felt a call or a tug toward priesthood — but here the feeling of not being good enough was much stronger: in my mind, a priest could never get grouchy or tired, he had to be like Father Mulcahy in the t.v. series MASH. Always chipper. Always positive. Never mad or sad.

Once again, I was helped by more sensible people, especially Father Dennis Browne, one of the priests at Stanford during my graduate studies there. Father Browne met with me, talked with me about my faith and fears, and told me about his own experiences of seminary and priesthood. These encounters gave me the courage to take the leap of faith and apply to the Archdiocese of San Francisco and enter Saint Patrick’s Seminary a year later.

Now I’m blessed to work with people interested in becoming Catholics, couples preparing for marriage, and other good people who, like me, might feel burdened by a sense of self-doubt that can be crippling. I thank God for the people who helped me, and for the privilege of trying to do the same for others.

Father Brown
Are you or someone you love dealing with separation or divorce? The Archdiocese strives to make known Christ’s healing love, so that all who suffer from separation and divorce might experience new life, reconciliation and restoration, meet people in a similar position and find help to rebuild their own lives.

We also recognize that separated and divorced people are not mere recipients of the Church’s compassion; they are ministers of that compassion. Through their vulnerability, suffering, courage, faithfulness, and patient endurance they bear witness to Christ and his redeeming grace in the world.

New Beginnings: a Catholic Divorce Ministry group in Marin (St. Hilary Parish) meets the 2nd Friday of the month (6:30pm) – contact Karen (415-250-2597).

A Spanish-speaking group meets at Our Lady of Loretto/Novato the 3rd Friday (7:00pm) – contact Victoria (702-460-3116).

Archdiocese of San Francisco

2019 Archdiocesan Annual Appeal

The Archdiocesan Annual Appeal (AAA) provides parishioners throughout our Archdiocese a unique opportunity to come together. Through AAA, the over ninety Parishes in our Archdiocese unite as one! The AAA is essential to the work of the Archdiocese of San Francisco.

Although we are spread over the counties of Marin, San Francisco, and San Mateo, we are one Archdiocese, collaborating in the ongoing mission of evangelization and education. The theme for this year’s Annual Appeal is “I will show you my faith by my works.” Together, we are able to demonstrate our faith through the AAA by supporting such critical needs as youth and young adults, parish schools and students, social ministries, ecumenical efforts, and greater Church.
