From Your Parish Pastoral Council

The Parish Pastoral Council (PPC) is a consultative body whose purpose is to assist Father Brown in carrying out the parish’s vision, articulated on the cover page of the bulletin. Another role of the PPC is to act as a sounding board for the congregation at large. In our most recent meeting we discussed:

☆ The RCIA ministry’s role in a faith journey, ways for the entire Parish to help evangelize, engage, and welcome candidates into our community, as well as to provide opportunities for new Catholics to continue putting their faith into action.

☆ The preparation of an Advent Parish Retreat here with Sr. Patricia Bruno, OP and Fr. Jude Siciliano, OP.

☆ Update on our Hearing Devices, their distribution at Mass, feedback on clear communication, and the posting of a sign at the Church’s entrance to encourage use.

☆ Introduction of a new electronic tool, Flocknote, that will expand our abilities to communicate within our Parish as well as to provide the means to offer the “Word on Fire” library series.

☆ We look forward to continuing to receive your questions and suggestions. Please contact the PPC members through our group email below, or you may also leave a message at (415) 891-7413 and we will be very happy to return your call.

Priests and deacons numbering almost 300 including some 100 Dominicans and more than 20 bishops joined with family, friends and women religious for the ordination of Bishop Christian. A fourth-generation San Franciscan and Dominican priest for 42 years, Bishop Christian was master of students for the Dominican Western Province at St. Albert’s Priory in Oakland when he was appointed to the role of bishop by Pope Francis in March.

“Father Robert, your diligence in teaching the faith of the Apostles through instruction and formation of future church leaders will serve you well in your new episcopal ministry among us,” said San Francisco Archbishop Salvatore J. Cordileone in his homily. “We give thanks to God and to Pope Francis for electing you to this office which you will exercise as a good shepherd, seeking the good of your people and not worldly gain or honor.”

Noting that the day was Election Day in San Francisco, the archbishop said that in the Bible, election is the action of God, a call to service. “To be God’s elect entails a form of existence different from that of the rest of the people,” he said, but not for the purpose of making oneself out to be better than others. “Separation from, is also a separation for.”

Bishop Christian is our first Dominican bishop since Father Joseph Sadoc Alemany, O.P., became the first Archbishop of San Francisco in 1850. Archbishop Cordileone thanked the Order of Preachers for what he called the “exemplary leadership and tireless pastoral care” it has provided to the people of the Archdiocese of San Francisco and beyond.

“As we know, this goes back to our very first archbishop whose chalice we use for this Mass today, and it continues up to the present time,” he said. The archbishop praised the missionary sacrifice of Archbishop Alemany who, “after the manner of the Good Shepherd, gave himself completely and at great personal cost” to initiating what has evolved into the local church’s institutional legacy.

The archbishop also borrowed words used by Pope Francis in his episcopal ordination of two bishops in Rome in 2016 to describe the true role of a bishop.

“As for you, dearest brothers, chosen by the Lord, consider that you have been appointed to the things pertaining to God. Indeed, ‘episcopacy’ is the name of a service, not of an honor,” the pope said. “Therefore, a bishop must strive to serve rather than to rule, according to the Master’s commandment: ‘whoever would be great among you must be your servant, and whoever would be first among you must be slave of all.’”

Joining the archbishop on the altar was the Archbishop of Santa Fe John C. Wester and the Bishop of Oakland Michael C. Barber, SJ. Also present was retired Los Angeles Archbishop Cardinal Roger M. Mahony and apostolic nuncio to the United States Archbishop Christophe Pierre.

The rites were accompanied by a choir of 40 voices, and an ensemble of timpani, horns and organ under the direction of cathedral music director Christoph Tietze. Cathedral cantor Ash Walker led the hymns.

The ordination of Bishop Christian embraced his large family, whom he credited in his remarks at the end of the Mass for helping shape any of his better “human qualities.” Readers included his cousin, Dominican Sister Marie Sagues and Notre Dame Sister Sharon McMillan, a classmate of Bishop Christian’s at Santa Clara University. Insignia bearers included nephews Robert F. Christian III, Thomas Christian, cousin Polly Mendes and John Christian, one of Bishop Christian’s five brothers. The remaining four,— Joseph, Michael, James and Thomas — brought up the gifts. A cousin from Marin County, where the Christian family summered as a family, is making a redwood crosier for him as a gift.

“Now that we are halfway through the ceremony,” he joked at the two-hour mark. “I want to thank all who have made it possible for me to view being a bishop not as an achievement, not something I did, à la Frank Sinatra, ‘doing it my way,’ but something that is really a gift.”

“I am ultimately someone who was given a sacramental character by Christ, enabling me to join a college that keeps the church in right doctrine, preaches that doctrine handed down from the apostles even when it seems to engender indifference or hostility,” he said. “And which promotes the pursuit of happiness by promoting the pursuit of holiness.”

Events for Religious Freedom Week
June 22 – 29 Friday, June 22 through Friday, June 29
Valerie Schmalz, Office of Human Life and Dignity
415-614-5571 schmalzV@sfarch.org sfarch.org/ freedom

The U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops (USCCB) asks Catholics to observe Religious Freedom Week, saying: “We are called to follow Christ as missionary disciples by serving others and living our faith in all that we do. Let us take a few moments each day from June 22 - June 29 to pray, reflect, and take action on religious liberty, both here in this country and abroad.” The USCCB website has extensive resources including bulletin inserts and policy statements: usccb.org. Events will be held nation-wide during this period. In the Archdiocese of San Francisco, Archbishop Salvatore J. Cordileone will ask all parishes to hold a holy hour during the week. In addition, the following archdiocesan events are open to all:

June 22: Vespers with Archbishop Salvatore Cordileone Star of the Sea Church, 4420 Geary Blvd., San Francisco, 5:45 pm Held on the Memorial of the English martyrs Sts. John Fisher and Thomas More, executed at the order of King Henry the VIII. Following Vespers, the Young Adult Ministry invites young adults (21-39) to a happy hour with Archbishop Cordileone, 6:15 pm at Steins Restaurant, 732 Clement St. (near 9th Ave.). June 24: Mass for Religious Freedom St. Matthew Church, One Notre Dame Ave., San Mateo. 8:45 am (Spanish) and 10:45 am (English) Msgr. John Talesfore, Celebrant. Held on the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, martyred for Christ. Coffee and donuts after each Mass. June 27: Young Adults Mass for Religious Freedom with Auxiliary Bishop Robert Christian, O.P. St. Dominic Church, 2390 Bush St., San Francisco, 7:30 pm June 29: Vespers and Panel Discussion Sts. Peter and Paul Church, 666 Filbert St., San Francisco, 7:00 pm Held on the feast day of Sts. Peter and Paul. Followed by a discussion of the international implications of religious freedom with representatives of a missionary society and others from countries where Christians face persecution. Wine and cheese, coffee and cookies provided.

Poster/Video contest on Fake News and “Journalism for Peace” and Catholicism
Ms. Jan Potts, Department of Communications, Archdiocese of San Francisco
(415) 614-5638 — pottsj@sfarch.org
http://signis.net/
For the first time, SIGNIS (the World Catholic Association for Communications) and the Vatican’s Secretariat for Communications are launching a global poster and video competition on the theme of the 2018 World Communications Day message:
“The truth will set you free: Fake News and Journalism for Peace.”
The organizations encourage talent from all over the world to showcase their work on this extremely important topic. There will be monetary prizes and global recognition for the winners.
Contest entries must be completed and submitted by September 30, 2018. Winning entries will be notified by December 2018.
The posters and videos will be distributed worldwide by members of SIGNIS, which are present in nearly 90 nations around the world.
For more information, visit the Sign is website, which is listed above.

Share Your Catholic Photos with Us!
Jan Potts, Communication Department 415-614-5638
PottsJ@sfarch.org — Sfarch.org
The Communication Office of the Archdiocese welcomes original photography of Catholic life for possible use on our websites and social media, and in print. We recognize that there are excellent photographers located across the three counties of the archdiocese, taking photos at parishes, shrines, and events. It’s simply impossible for our staff to be in all those same places. If you have beautiful stained glass windows, an enthusiastic choir, lovely statues and gardens, etc., we may be able to share your photos of them with others, and heighten awareness of the beauty of our faith. Although we cannot compensate for the photos, credit will be given whenever possible. Good quality amateur photos are welcome, and cell phone cameras are fine if set to high resolution.
The St. Hilary Tiger says:

“No one can make you feel inferior without your consent.”
