Dear parishioners,

This weekend we celebrate Father Andrew Ginter’s last Sunday at St. Hilary with gratitude, fond memories, best wishes for his new assignment as full-time Chaplain to Marin Catholic High School — and of course a nice reception on Saturday night right after the five o’clock Mass!

On Monday, we welcome our new Parochial Vicar, Father Ernesto Jandonero, who was ordained this spring along with his two classmates for the Archdiocese of San Francisco. Father Jandonero (hahn-doe-neh-row) will be involved in many of the ministries Father Ginter was active with: our monthly Pasta Night, daily visits with the students of our parochial school, collaborating with Lisa Veto in our Faith Formation program, etc.

For me, it’s sad to see Father Ginter move up north, but a joy to know that Father Jandonero is coming. Since my arrival in 2010 we have seen many fine priests serve here (Father Lawrence, Father Matt, Father Roger), and I look forward to enjoying the same priestly fraternity and collaboration with Father Jandonero. I know in my heart that he will benefit from serving the good people of this church and school, because this is who you are: faithful members of the Church who have brains, hearts, charisms, ideas, and voices that you use to make a difference in the world and in the hearts of the priests who come to know you. Today’s passage from Saint Paul’s Letter to the Galatians reminds me of this reality:

For you were called for freedom, brothers and sisters.
But do not use this freedom
as an opportunity for the flesh;
rather, serve one another through love.
For the whole law is fulfilled in one statement,
namely, You shall love your neighbor as yourself.
But if you go on biting and devouring one another,
beware that you are not consumed by one another.
I say, then: live by the Spirit and you will certainly not gratify the desire of the flesh.
For the flesh has desires against the Spirit,
and the Spirit against the flesh;
these are opposed to each other,
so that you may not do what you want.
But if you are guided by the Spirit, you are not under the law.

(Galatians 5:13-18)

In every community there will be a mix of young and old, female and male, conservative and liberal, and people from every nation, language, and way of life. They beauty of being Catholic is that from this very real and challenging diversity we keep coming back, we pray together, work together for the Lord, and we reach out to those in need so that they might come to know what we know: God is love, and God sent his Son Jesus to reveal this love to the world in a new and unmistakable way. Each priest who serves here feels this in his very being, thanks to all of you — and to the Holy Spirit whom you welcome into your heart and soul.

Decorum in Church

Your Parish Pastoral Council each month meets to discuss how to better serve the people, including recruitment of more volunteers for ministries, and sharing feedback (“Heard In The Pews”) from various members of the community.

One thing we have been asked to gently request is that the faithful prayerfully consider what they wear to Mass on Sundays, and how this might have an impact on those around us.

Our climate is sometimes very warm, but men and women, girls and boys, can still wear their “Sunday best” whenever possible, and especially if they will be serving as Lectors or Eucharistic Ministers during Mass. If you look at our adult choir members, they always dress with care for Sunday worship, and the priest survives the heat even with his usual clothing, plus the white alb, plus the chasuble.

This is a very touchy and delicate subject, and we don’t want to embarrass anyone, but please think about this gentle request — and then ask someone who seems sensible if you are in doubt.

What one person sees as stylish might seem very revealing and distracting to others; what one person considers nicely casual might suggest to others a lack of respect.

Letter Campaign Against SB360, “Seal of Confession”

Archbishop Cordileone asks all the faithful of the Archdiocese to contact their state Assembly representative to voice their opposition to SB360, proposed legislation that threatens the confidentiality of the Sacrament of Penance and Reconciliation. The state Senate has already approved the bill, which would take away the full right to confession from priests and everyone who works with priests in Parishes and Church agencies statewide. Parishioners may also send an electronic letter via the website: sfarch.org/KeepTheSeal
