Dear friends in Christ,

This weekend we hear the ancient, familiar, and sacred words which remind us of what it means to be part of the human condition, and part of a human family:

God sets a father in honor over his children; a mother's authority he confirms over her sons. Whoever honors his father atones for sins, and preserves himself from them. When he prays, he is heard; he stores up riches who reveres his mother. Whoever honors his father is gladdened by children, and, when he prays, is heard. Whoever reveres his father will live a long life; he who obeys his father brings comfort to his mother.

My son, take care of your father when he is old; grieve him not as long as he lives. Even if his mind fail, be considerate of him; revile him not all the days of his life; kindness to a father will not be forgotten, firmly planted against the debt of your sins — a house raised in justice to you. (Sirach 3:2-6, 12-14)

We approach the new year with gratitude for those blessings in our lives that make our hearts jump for joy, and we prayerfully discern how we have used our gifts this past year, and what we hope to do in the coming year.

For some of us, this might be a time of adjusting to the loss of a loved one who, for the first time ever, was not with us for Christmas, because they have gone before us to God. Or, we might be dealing with changes in our family life, our age, our health, and our relationships that call for contemplation and discernment — “Okay, this is now that way things are. How can I cope with this?”

Our world is changing, and it is changing very quickly. Each week we encounter news about violence, climate change, politics, Church, impeachment, abuse of power, and crimes. However, we also can find good news in the midst of all the bad stuff, especially if we choose what we read and watch, rather than allowing some network or outsider dictate what comes into our homes and minds. For me, the internet can be a blessing in this sense, permitting one to select various sources of information and inspiration, rather than being held captive to what the television or newspaper will throw at me. For many of you, your decision to read books and articles that lift the spirit toward God is a choice that drives away despair and ushers in hope and energy.

As we approach the Holy Day on January 1st, celebrating the Mother of God, let us prayerfully ask the Blessed Mother to guide our families and our choices in 2020 to make our homes and world better — and holier.

Recently I checked my own Smile.Amazon.com account and discovered I had “earned” more than a thousand dollars for our parish by simply using this AmazonSmile option: but it’s important to use the correct bookmark, or no charity gets helped.
As our population decreases, this is a great and simple way to help your parish stay in the black!
Many thanks — Father Brown 😊

We'd like to thank Saint Hilary School Christian Leadership students, Science Teacher Scott Buchanan and Facilities and Projects Director Michael Ratiani for building the stable for our parish Nativity. The lovely olive trees for this year's Nativity were generously donated by Mrs. Maureen Buscher. Thank for helping to make our Nativity so beautiful!

If anyone has reason to believe, or might suspect, there is or has been abuse involving clergy, employees, volunteers, or children attending Catholic schools, parish religious education programs, or other church-related events, those suspicions or allegations are to be reported first to civil authorities and then to the Archdiocese via its assigned Victim Assistance Coordinator, Rocio Rodriguez, LMFT. Phone: (415) 614-5506 — Email: rodriguezr@sfarchdiocese.org https://sfarchdiocese.org/how-to-report-suspected-abuse
Cases of alleged abuse in which the abuser and the victim are of the same household are to be reported to Child Protective Services (CPS), while cases in which the alleged victim and the accused do not share a household should be reported to law enforcement authorities (sheriff’s department or local police).
For Marin County, the proper authorities are listed below:
Child Protective Services (415) 499-7153
Sheriff’s Department (415) 479-2311
Volunteers needed for our Sunday Hospitality, every Sunday after the 9:00am and 11:00am Masses.

Eucharistic Adoration Chapel — pray for the Souls In Purgatory

Christmas is a special time in the Adoration Chapel. More Souls are released from Purgatory on Christmas than any other day of the year. Now during the 8 Days of Christmas (immediately following Christmas) is also especially powerful. Come in and pray for those special people in your life who have passed away.

Eucharistic Adoration Chapel hours~ 7am-6pm Daily

Please sign in so we know you were there. For a Permanent time slot email Shawn Sylvia at SSylvia@sbcglobal.net

Substitutes are also welcome.

Parishioners should go to the Sainthrolyschool.org website, click on parents, then they will find the crab link.
